Themes and topics for BELLEVUE May/June issue

Extra-large special – properties in and around Frankfurt

We give you an overview of what's happening in and around Frankfurt – the prime locations, the hip parts of town, what's selling, and what new areas are up and coming. Bellevue profiles the most exciting development projects, such as Europaviertel, Westside, Riedberg, along with prices, completion dates and background information. And away from downtown Mainhattan, there's a host of des-res for commuters: at the foot of the Taunus hills, in Wiesbaden or in Dreieich. We spotlight the most interesting satellite towns, with current prices and properties. For more information, visit www.bellevue.de/frankfurt-special

The North Sea and the Baltic Sea, part 3: living under a thatched roof

Whether we're talking Föhr, Fehmarn, Kühlungsborn, Kampen, Sylt or Sankt Peter – reed-thatched cottages are selling like hot cakes along the German coast. Bellevue showcases gorgeous properties and speaks to the experts about the durability, quality and history of the much-loved roofs. Plus, all you need to know when buying a holiday home. Majorca: a sunny outlook

Sun, sand, sea. Even though Majorca wasn't left untouched by the Spanish financial downturn, the largest of the Balearics is and remains the firm favourite with German holiday home buyers. Bellevue takes a detailed look at the real-estate market on the island.

Dubai/Abu Dhabi

Property can be a lucrative and secure investment of capital. In times of economic turbulence, more private investors are taking an interest in the real-estate market. But not all that glitters is gold. BELLEVUE explains what makes a good investment.

Portugal

For a long time, a strong pound and high demand from the Britons were driving up real-estate prices – especially on the Algarve. But these golden times are over for sellers and they are working hard to attract German buyers.

Turkey

The Turkish economy is flourishing – and with it, the country's real-estate market. While other Mediterranean states are in crisis mode, the region around the Bosphorus is booming. Istanbul has developed into one of the most popular destinations around, and hot spots such as Bodrum and Antalya are drawing the jet-setting crowds. Bellevue visits the most attractive locations.

Cornwall und Co.

A Swiss construction company, with roots in Egypt, proposes to build a very special holiday resort in the south of England. Bellevue showcases the spectacular plans of the Orascom Group – currently one of the most interesting project developers around.

Focus on fairway living – real estate near golf courses

Living near or almost on a golf course is an attractive option, and not just for lovers of tees, puts and drivers. There are many developments on offer, with much more than just cheaper green fees for homeowners. Bellevue features the best properties around the globe, presents current projects, and offers tips on fairway living.
